THE BEST QUALITY OF FRESH MACKEREL at CUNNINGHAM & CARMON'S.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND Hoofland's German Tonic. The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medically termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC, Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c.; making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC. They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable. The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigation and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC, Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefitted suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public. These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Bowels, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY, Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, Induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE, And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE. It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; on the contrary, they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite. To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN, Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail. Thousands of certificates have been received in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes: Philadelphia, March 18, 1765.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Tonic, useful in diseases and of great benefit in case of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia, April 23, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD, Eighth, below Coates St.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL, Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours truly, E. D. FENDALL.

KICK HIM DOWN.

If, in the treacherous paths of life,
Thy brother's foot should slip,
And words of folly, hate or strife,
Fall from his thoughtless lip;
Or if perchance, as many say,
Dame Fortune she should frown
And blight his prospects, fair as day,
The cry is—Kick him down!

Whate'er his state in life has been—
If honest, worthy, wise;
Or, if the wealthy day hath seen,
Of course you'll shut your eyes.
If poverty, with brazen chain,
Should bring him to the ground,
He, struggling 'tempts to rise again,
The cry is—Kick him down!

If solitude and penitence,
For errors be his lot,
And conscience brings remembrances
Of follies once forgot;
If hope, again, with buoyant wing,
Flings joy and peace around,
A thousand accusations bring,
And try to—Kick him down!

If on well-meant efforts rest
The helpless child of life,
And near his doubting, beating breast
There hangs an anxious wife;
If on the altar of his care
Their hopes and joys are bound,
What retribution waits you share,
Why aid to—Kick him down!

If good intent the man should guide,
Though failing in a part,
Discourage not—the world is wide—
There's good in every heart,
Let sympathy the soul inspire,
Where'er misfortune's found,
And man, still struggling, to admire,
And never—Kick him down!

Views of Chief Justice Chase.

The Washington correspondence of the New York Herald of this morning contains the following, which can be accepted for what it is worth:—

The opinions and political status of no public man in the country are of such importance at this time as are those of the Chief Justice, both on account of his high character and position and in view of the Presidential campaign and its complications, and the very possible event of his close connection therewith. Mr. Chase comments freely on men and measures, so freely in fact that no less a personage than the General of our Armies as late as Saturday sharply criticised the remarks that the Chief Justice thought fit to make on the course of the Republican party and in regard to the nominee for the Presidency. Through a friend who enjoys intimate relations with Mr. Chase I am enabled to present through the Herald some of his views, which, it will be observed, are of striking originality and of extraordinary importance.

The Chief Justice declares that he is not a candidate for the Presidential nomination; he does not seek it and does not want it. He is grateful to his friends and the people for their recent manifestations of respect and confidence in the use of his name for that high office, but his position and inclinations would not admit of his accepting it excepting the nation was in the utmost peril. And under no circumstances would he assume such a responsibility at the sacrifice of his honest convictions.

The Chief Justice frankly admits the radical party and himself differ widely in their views; and as parties are now organized he is for the Democratic party. He differs from them upon only one point—that of universal manhood suffrage. He is agreed with them on all other of the great issues. Incidentally he remarked, if he were elected by that party to the Presidency, while he would certainly carry out their policy faithfully, he would labor to make the party one of permanent usefulness, upon the broad ground of nationality and material progress.

In the opinion of the Chief Justice the deplorable condition of the Southern States demands not only the proper consideration of Congress, but also material aid from the general Government. The war has been ended for three years, and those States should be in practical relations with the Government. There is no constitutional authority to hold them in subjugation, and if there were it would be alike unwise and unjust. He favored the enfranchisement of every white man in the South, and removing the disabilities of every man in the nation He thinks freedom and manhood suffrage should be an unquestionable right, but he controverts the idea that any other power than that of the States themselves can confer it. He holds that the general Government has no control over the question, and that the power rests in the States, where alone it should reside.

The Chief Justice would remove the political disabilities imposed on the people of the South by the fourteenth amendment. But as those States as now organized will undoubtedly ratify it, he proposes a general amnesty as a mode of relief and also as an act which would tend towards the reconciliation of the two sections. Furthermore, he regards this as absolutely necessary as the provisions of that amendment exclude thousands from office, both under the Government and the States, and this will lead to complications which should be avoided.

Mr. Chase urges that the most liberal aid should be extended to the South in improving their railroad system and also their navigable rivers. He thinks aid should be given to repair the levees on the Mississippi, build new ones wherever they are required, even from Cairo to the Gulf. That the millions of acres of land which would be reclaimed in the valley of the Mississippi by a judicious levee system would quadruple the producing powers of that section and add correspondingly to the wealth and prosperity of the country.

Mr. Chase strenuously urges the early return to specie payments. He believes it could be done without damage to any interests, and in a comparatively short period of time it would not matter whether bonds were paid in greenbacks or gold, as the public credit would be re-established and greenbacks be worth par value.

Mr. Chase condemned in strong terms the trial of citizens by military commissions in time of peace. He regards it as an arrogant assumption of power most dangerous to the country, and thinks it should not be tolerated. The Chief Justice made no reference whatever to the McArdle case, but his opinions, as recorded in the celebrated Milligan case, admits of no doubts as to what they are.

Mr. Chase expressed the hope that if Mr. Johnson should reorganize his Cabinet, he would appoint a proper proportion of its members from the Southern States.

In the course of his conversation he deprecated the course of Congress, especially of the House of Representatives. He considers their assaults on the judiciary and other legislative acts unwise, and calculated to arouse the distrust, and embitter the animosities between the different sections.

In reply to a question Mr. Chase said the pardoning power was certainly a constitutional prerogative of the President, and Congress had no power to abridge it.

Death of Ex-President Buchanan.

Hon. James Buchanan, the 15th President of the United States, and one of the distinguished statesman of a past age, died at his residence at Wheatland, near this city, at about half past eight o'clock on Monday morning the 1st inst. The immediate cause of his death was dropsy of the chest. About a fortnight ago, he had been very ill, but in a conversation with his brother, Rev. Edw. Y. Buchanan, we understood that he had so much improved as to be considered out of danger; and indeed, such an announcement had been publicly made by friends who had visited him, and we had not heard of any unfavorable change until the announcement of his death.

Mr. Buchannan was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, on the 22d of April, 1791, and had therefore, entered upon the 78th year of his age.—His father had emigrated from Ireland, but his mother was the daughter of a Pennsylvania farmer. The father, by untiring industry, was enabled to give his son a good classical education, and he graduated at Dickinson College, Carlisle, in 1809, with the highest honors of his class. In the same year he commenced the study of law with James Hopkins, Esq., and was admitted to the bar in 1812, having then barely attained his majority. His success as a lawyer was such, that at the age of 40 he was enabled to retire from practice; and it is stated that only on one occasion could he subsequently be induced to appear at the bar, and that was to defend the rights of a poor widow whose little property was threatened with an action of ejectment.

Mr. Buchanan was a member of the State Legislature, at the age of twenty three, and elected to Congress in the year 1820. In 1825 he was one of the Managers chosen to prosecute in the celebrated Peck impeachment case.—At the close of his fifth term, in 1831, Mr. Buchanan withdrew from Congress, but was soon after chosen, by President Jackson, as Minister to Russia. On his return from Russia, in 1833, he was elected to the United States Senate, where he remained until appointed Secretary of State by President Polk. At the close of Mr. Polk's administration, Mr. Buchanan retired to private life, where he remained until appointed by President Pierce, as Minister to England. He returned to the United States in April, '56. Most of our readers will recollect the enthusiastic reception given him by our citizens, at the locomotive works, where he debarked from the train. In June following he was unanimously nominated at Cincinnati, as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, and was elected, receiving 174 electoral votes from 19 States.

The political events which followed are still in the minds of the people, and some of the bearings of political questions arising under his administration being still unsettled, the time has not yet come for an impartial judgment of his motives and conduct as a public man. We commit those to the pen of impartial history.—Lancaster Express.

AFFECTION.—To fondle and love seem to be necessities of our nature. Human loneliness is abnormal, and society cannot exist without a measure of friendly relations. The greatest tyrant has had his favorites. The prisoner, the misanthrope, the outcast, attaches himself, if not to a man, yet to some animal that affords companionship. Even a plant may, as Saintino has shown in his beautiful story of Picciola, become personified, and the breath of human affection be mingled with its perfume. Yet, since the indulgence of personal satisfaction, in its way selfish, prompts to the kind treatment of dumb animals and dependent creatures, the mere fostering of such is not a reliable index to the possession of a truly tender and loving nature. The most cruel men have been known to take the greatest pleasure in the rearing of some pet. Obedience to the common instincts of humanity cannot be reckoned as a proof of the working of a higher moral nature.

GRANT AND COLFAX.

We present below the letters of acceptance addressed by General Grant and Schuyler Colfax to General Hawley, President of the National Union Republican Convention, which at Chicago, nominated them respectively as candidates for President and Vice President of the United States.

General Grant's Letter of Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1868.—To General Joseph R. Hawley, President of the National Union Republican Convention:—Informally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention of the 21st of May, inst., it seems proper that some statement of views beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination, should be expressed. The proceeding of Convention were marked with wisdom, moderation, and patriotism, and, I believe, express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its recent trials.

I indorse their resolutions, and, if elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administor all the laws in good faith, with economy, and with the view of giving peace, quiet, and protection everywhere. In times like the present it is impossible, or at least eminently improper to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong, through an administration of four years.

New political issues not foreseen are constantly arising, the views of the public in old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I always have respected that will, and always shall. Peace, and universal prosperity its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation while it constantly reduces the national credit. Let us have peace. With great respect, your obedient servant, U. S. GRANT.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax's Letter of Acceptance.

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1868.—Hon. Joseph R. Hawley, President of the National Union Republican Convention.—Dear Sir:—The platform adopted by the patriotic Convention over which you presided, and the resolutions which so happily supplement it, so entirely agree with my views to a just national policy, that my thanks are due to the delegates as much for this clear and auspicious declaration of principles as for the nomination with which I have been honored, and which I gratefully accept.

When a great rebellion which imperilled the national existence was at last overthrown, the duty of all others devolved on those entrusted with the responsibilities of legislation, evidently was, to require that the revolted States should be admitted to participation in the Government against which they had warred, only on such a basis as to increase and to fortify, not to weaken or endanger the strength and power of the nation.

Certainly no one ought to have claimed that they should be readmitted under such rule; that their organization as States could ever again be used, as at the opening of the war, to defy the national authority or to destroy the national unity. This principle has been the polar star of those who have inflexibly insisted on the Congressional policy your Convention so cordially endorsed. Baffled by Executive opposition and persistent refusals to accept any plan of reconstruction proffered by Congress, justice and public safety at last combined to teach us that only by an enlargement of suffrage in those States could the desired end be attained, and that it was even more safe to give the ballot to those who loved the Union than to those who had sought ineffectually to destroy it. The assured success of this legislation is being written in the adamant of history, and will be our triumphant vindication.

More clearly, too, than ever before, does the nation recognize that the greatest glory of a republic is, that it throws the shield of its protection over the humblest and weakest of its people, and vindicates the rights of the poor and the powerless as faithfully as those of the rich and the powerful. I rejoice, too, in this connection, to find in your platform the frank and fearless avowal that naturalized citizens must be protected abroad at every hazard, as though they were native born.

Our whole people are foreigners, or descendants of foreigners. Our fathers established by arms their right to be called a nation. It remains for us to establish the right to welcome to our shores all who are willing, by oaths of allegiance, to become American citizens. Perpetual allegiance, as claimed abroad, is only another name for perpetual bondage, and would make all slaves to the soil where first they saw the light.

Our national cemeteries prove how faithfully these oaths of fidelity to the adopted land, have been sealed in the life-blood of thousands upon thousands. Should we not then be faithless to the dead if we did not protect their living brethren in the full enjoyment of that nationality for which, side by side with the native born, our soldiers of foreign birth laid down their lives?

It was fitting, too, that the representatives of a party which had proved, so true to national duty in time of war should speak so clearly in time of peace for the maintenance, untarnished of the national honor, national credit, and good faith as regards its debt—the cost of our national existence. I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited such hearty approval throughout the land. The debt of gratitude it acknowledges to the brave men who saved the Union from destruction; the frank approval of amnesty based on repentance and loyalty.

The demand for the most thorough economy and honesty in the Government, the sympathy of the party of liberty with all throughout the world who long for the liberty we here enjoy, and the recognition of the sublimest principles of the Declaration of Independence, are worthy of the organization on whose banners they are to be written in the coming contest.—Its past record cannot be blotted out or forgotten. If there had been no Republican party, slavery would to-day cast its baleful shadow over the republic.

If there had been no Republican party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as 10 years ago. If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the banner of rebellion was unfurled, and when the response of no coercion was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day.—But for the Republican party daring to risk the odium of tax and draft laws, our flag could not have been kept flying in the field till the long hoped for victory came.

Without a Republican party the Civil Rights bill, the guarantee of equality under the law to the humble and the defenseless as well as to the strong, would not be to-day upon our national statute book. With inspirations from the past, and following the example of the founders of the Republic, who called the victorious General of the Revolution to preside over the land his triumphs had saved from its enemies, I cannot doubt that our labors will be crowned with success, and it will be a success that will bring restored hope, confidence, prosperity, and progress, South as well as North, West as well as East, and above all, the blessings, under Providence, of national concord and peace.

Very truly, yours, (Signed,) SCHUYLER COLFAX.

It is Very Easy to be Decent.

[The following article which we clip from the editorial columns of the Harrisburg State Guard, meets our idea of conducting the campaign, and we hope our friends will read it carefully and practice its teachings:]

"It is time the politics of the country, the manner of conducting political contests, is reformed. The people want rest, and from no source can they secure it more substantially than from a more dignified, generous, liberal manner of conducting our political contests. The idea of arraying neighbors in bitter hostility merely because they happen to differ in politics, is inhuman, rash, disgraceful and suicidal. Only selfish office hunters are anxious to create such a state of public feeling. Among men who contest politics for the principle and not the plunder therein, such rivalries, bitter, personal abuse, reckless aspersion of character are never allowed to occur. To be a proper politician a man should be a gentleman, a scholar, thoroughly acquainted with the resources and the wants of his country, an economist, who is able to devise means to benefit the masses, a statesman, with a liberal mind ready to act at all times for the benefit of all the people. The country must, as soon as possible, return to the rule of such politicians, or it will be arested in its career and consigned to destruction. We must have more genuine good will among the American people, in order that they may find time to rest from the turmoil of politics and labor for the good of the nation—for the improvement of their personal welfare in this as well as in the life to come. As a specimen of genuine good will, we clip the following from the New York Citizen—a Democratic organ of marked ability, and can only hope that the conviction expressed in these lines will ripen into a full advocacy of the ticket, or at least a vote next November on the right side:

"The nomination of Schuyler Colfax for Vice President by the Radicals is a splendid personal triumph, and nothing else. He is one of the most popular men in the country with all parties; and scarcely a Democrat lives who either could say, or would wish to say, one unkind word of the Radical nominee for Vice President. Colfax is never great, never striking, never shining, never startling; but he has always been sound and moderate, in a certain pleasant way that delighted one party, while never giving any offence to the other. It is the old, old story. Nothing is more fatal to personal success, than for any man to be confessedly brilliant—to be by general acclaim, the intellectual leader of his party. Neither Chase nor Greeley, Fessenden nor Phillips, were ever so much as mentioned in the Chicago Convention; the nominations are given to Grant, a non-political soldier, and to Colfax, a non-belligerent politician. So far as they are personally concerned, we congratulate both gentlemen on the result; for if any Radicals have to win, they will be the least obnoxious that could be named."

—We thank the Citizen for its candor. We profess to emulate its decency, and we trust that the day is at hand when men of all parties will discard with becoming contempt the ribaldry and foulness which have so long disgraced the partizan contests of the people of the United States."

☞Three additional candidates for office are announced this week. There are many more and they should be publicly announced.

☞Grant Club No. 1, was fully organized for business on Saturday evening last, and the books are now ready for the names of all who wish to join with the Club. The next meeting will be on Saturday evening next at Letterman's Hotel.

ORGANIZE.—We are pleased to hear that the friends of Grant, Colfax, and Victory, in several of the townships in this county are making arrangements to organize Grant Clubs. This is the spirit—attack the enemy while they are in confusion, and the battle is half won.

ANOTHER "NEW PARTY."—A circular informs us that "At a convention of laborers, farmers, mechanics and ex-soldiers, in Pfoutz's Valley, Perry county, Pennsylvania, April 23, 1868, Henry Braden presiding, many interesting and able addresses were made on the subject of Christian statesmanship. On motion, Dr. Robert A. Simpson, of Liverpool, Pa., was unanimously nominated for President of the United States, and Robert D. Eldridge, Esq., of Baltimore, Md., for Vice President.

THE UNRECONSTRUCTED STATES.—The Southern States, which have not yet held elections on the ratification of the new Constitutions under the reconstruction laws, are Virginia, Mississippi, and Texas. Virginia completed her Constitution, and her Convention adjourned on Friday night, April 17. The election for its ratification has not yet been ordered.

In Mississippi the Constitution has been completed, and was signed by the members of the Convention on the 15th of May. On the 12th of May, in the Constitutional Convention, an ordinance was passed designating June 22d for the election for ratifying the Constitution. Major General Gillem has approved the ordinance, and the election will consequently take place on the day designated by the Convention.

Texas is very far behind in the work of reconstruction. Her election for a convention has been held, resulting favorably, and General Buchanan has issued an order fixing the first of June as the time for the meeting of that body. The Constitutional Convention accordingly met on the 1st of June, at Austin, and is now in session for the purpose of framing a new Constitution, which will probably consume two or three months, so that the election for its ratification can hardly take place until some time in the fall.

"Let us have peace." So says General Grant, and so say all who have the good of our common country at heart.

Political Chip Basket.

The Republicans of Erie county have adopted the Crawford county system.

Grant, it is said, wrote his letter of acceptance inside of ten minutes.

The election in Oregon lately resulted in a Democratic majority by over two thousand votes.

The President last week renominated Ex-Attorney General Stanberry to his old position, but the Senate couldn't see it.

Pendleton appears to be gaining ground as the Democratic candidate. Let them put him up, and he is beaten easy. He is "too fresh."

The official majority in Michigan against a new Constitution, which provided for negro suffrage at the election in April, was 38,825.

Illinois under Republican control, remembers her soldiers. Out of seven State offices, five of the candidates on the Union ticket are Union soldiers.

Many of the Democrats are looking with favor upon the proposed nomination of Salmon P. Chase—and yet he is a strong and uncompromising advocate of universal negro suffrage.

The election in Washington city a week ago, was claimed by the Democrats, but it appears the Republicans will have a small majority after throwing out illegal votes.

Hon. George C. Gorham has been chosen Secretary of the United States Senate, in lieu of John W. Forney, resigned. He was the recent unsuccessful Union candidate for Governor of California.

Somebody has discovered that the Republican ticket is purely military, being made up of General Grant and Col. Fax. Its strongest supporter, as a consequence, says a radical paper is General Satisfaction.

The States which have instructed for Mr. Pendleton are, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Oregon, California, and Kentucky, and he is understood to be the first choice of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Maryland, and Tennessee.

The first object of every true Republican is to work for a thorough, complete, harmonious and active organization. We have the material of numbers sufficient to increase the Republican vote in every election district in the State.

The Richmond Dispatch thinks the chance of harmonizing the two wings of the Democratic party is almost hopeless. It says the War Democrats would vote for General Grant rather than for Pendleton; and the Copperheads or peace Democrats would rather that Grant should be elected than Hancock.

The Dayton Ledger, Vallandigham's organ, says of that branch of the Democratic party which it represents:—"If a 'War Democrat' of the Marble-Halpine 'flaunting lie' school is chosen standard-bearer of the party, his defeat is inevitable, because the wing known as the Peace Democrats will not support him; if at all, at least with no degree of zeal—and they are a power in the land."

The Chase Movement.

A dispatch from Washington says: A number of Pennsylvania politicians are now in Washington prospecting for the nomination of Chief Justice Chase. As part of the movement, the following circular calling a meeting of friends in Philadelphia is interesting:

PHILADELPHIA, May 29, 1868.—Dear Sir:—You are hereby respectfully requested to meet a few of the friends of Chief Justice Chase on the tenth of June, 1868, at noon, at the Continental Hotel, in this city, for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of presenting his name as a candidate for President of the United States.

Very respectfully, [Signed] John Welch, Wm. F. Johnson, John W. Frazier.

Messrs. Welch and Frazier who signed this letter are the parties to whom the Chief Justice recently, as they report, said he was in the hands of his friends. They and Mr. Johnston are members of the great Democratic club of Philadelphia, of which the latter is President.

Case of Jeff. Davis Postponed.

RICHMOND, June 3.—The United States Court met this morning, Chief Justice Chase and Judge Underwood presiding. The Chief Justice called the case of Jefferson Davis, when Mr. Anderson, of Mississippi, one of the counsel for the defense, read an argument for postponement till October, signed by Evarts and O'Conor. The Chief Justice then asked if counsel were ready for trial, independent of this stipulation. Gov. Wells, for the prosecution, replied that in view of the absence of the District Attorney, whose wife is in a dying condition, the absence of the prisoner's counsel by this stipulation, and the absence of Mr. Evarts, who stood in the position of more directly representing the Attorney General, the case could not well be gone on with. He suggested some day of the term in October when the Chief Justice could attend. The counsel for the defense moved for postponement till next term, which the Chief Justice granted, saying at the same time that had the trial taken place in May a year ago, last fall or now, it would have been more convenient for him, as he was ready to try the case. He would, however, attend next term if possible, in view of his other duties. The witnesses, including General R. E Lee, were recognized to appear on the 4th Monday in November, and the prisoner's bail bond renewed.

Houses can be built in New Orleans at least fifteen per cent. cheaper than they could before the war, and great activity in building prevails. In Pennsylvania it costs fifteen per cent. more to build houses since, than it did before the war.

"Let us Have Peace!"

[From the New York Times.]

General Grant's letter accepting the Republican nomination for President is a gem. It says just enough, and not a word too much. It is clear, unmistakably explicit on every point, and as modest and unpretending as Grant is himself. Its tone is thoroughly patriotic, and in full sympathy with the people upon the great principles of republican government.

General Grant characterizes the proceedings of the National Convention as having been marked by "wisdom, moderation, and patriotism"—and he is unquestionably right in believing that they express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained their country during the recent trials. No convention has ever met which more fully embodied the sentiments and opinions of the people than did the Convention at Chicago.

Of the resolutions adopted, and of his own sentiments on the subjects involved in the canvass, General Grant proceeds to say:—

"I indorse their resolutions, and if elected to the office of President of the United States it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy, and with the view of giving peace, quiet, and protection everywhere. In times like the present it is impossible, or at least eminently improper, to lay down a policy to be adhered to, right or wrong, through an administration of four years. New political issues not foreseen are constantly arising, the views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I always have respected that will, and always shall. Peace, and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the national debt. Let us have peace."

No language could more fully or more explicitly embody the dominant wish of the American people than that with which the General closes this admirable letter—"Let us have peace!" It is the wish nearest the heart of all classes—all States and all sections. Peace—a settled, just, and permanent peace—not merely the end of war, but the end of the discord, resentment, and hatred which survive the war—is what the American people, without distinction of section, of party, or of race, most of all, at this moment, most fervently desire. They see in it the indispensable condition and the sure guarantee of the "universal prosperity" which General Grant justly and fitly says is "its sequence." It is the beginning of the nation's convalescence. When it comes, the wounds of war will begin to heal:—the losses of war can be repaired:—the life of the nation, paralyzed and checked by war, will again start forth and renew, with augmented vigor and force, the development of the nation's strength.

And the country will recognize in the victorious General who closed the war and put the finishing blow to the Rebellion out of which it grew, the man, best fitted of all, to give the nation that peace whose worth he understands so well. His election will reassure the country, in all its parts, that the reign of peace—under the protection of the law and the Constitution—has again begun. Every branch of industry—every department of public and of private activity—labor in all its forms—enterprise, adventure, energy in all the shapes and channels through which their results are achieved, will experience a new and more vivid life, and will pour into the nation's lap richer and more abundant fruits.

The whole country repeats the demand, "Let us have Peace," and will regard Grant's election as the harbinger of its coming.

The New York Citizen on the Republican Nominations.

Colonel Halpine, who represents the War Democrats of New York, thus candidly gives his opinion:

Grant and Colfax made a ticket hard to beat. The wonderful military success of the one, and the great political ability of the other, cannot be written down or belittled by newspaper editors; and the attempt to do so is a folly only worthy of the late management of the Democratic party.—The hero of Donelson, Corinth, most wonderful of all, of Vicksburg, and finally of Richmond, is not a third-rate general, and no literary scribe can make him one. The gentleman who has worked his way up to the Speakership of the House of Representatives is not a bad politician, and those who buy him for one will not make a profitable bargain. Probably there are no two leading names stronger, individually and collectively, than the two which have been put forward. And if they do not receive the support of the people, it will be from other than personal reasons.

The Republicans have made their cast, and it remains for the Democrats to beat it if they can. How they are to effect this is a serious question. A bait is now offered to the Conservatives, the War Democrats, and all the floating population, which has no decided views. Grant, although he committed the grave error—probably influenced by private feeling—of favoring impeachment, is known not to be an extreme fanatic. His conduct and declarations at the close of the war make so much certain. The platform is so conveniently indefinite, and is stronger by what it omits than by that which it asserts. The Stephens dogma, that negro suffrage is to be forced upon the North by Congressional nomination after being repudiated by the popular voice, is set aside; and the question of suffrage for the South is kept conveniently indefinite. The payment of the national debt is left to time, an easy way of getting rid of it, and is only to be paid according to the spirit and letter the statutes under which it was created—that is, in greenbacks or in gold, as may suit the public taste. The only positive expression on the opinion is on questions that offer an adversary little advantage. The Convention was powerful, dramatic and harmonious, and has the prestige of success, which will draw many to its standard.

Do the Democrats imagine that they can defeat such candidates with any men who only represent a section, too, of their party? Has Copperheadism ever yet defeated loyalty? Can Pendleton overcome Grant? It has been our boast there were more Democratic than Republican soldiers in the ranks of the loyal armies. Will these fight one way and vote another? Having whipped the enemy in the field, will they vote him the victory in the council? The leaders who think so must be "Old Line Whigs"—those most hopeless of political drivelers. Can we go into this fight against the glories of Vicksburg, Donelson, Appomatox Court House, and a thousand other famous fields, with "peace at any price," and "the war a failure," inscribed on our banners? To win at all, we will want all our strength and all our ability. We must have the Conservative vote; we must win the soldiers, the million of bayonets which have not yet stopped thinking. There is but one candidate who can promise us the hope of success who has yet been presented to the public, and that man is Winfield Scott Hancock.

Funeral of Ex-President Buchanan.

[Special Dispatch to the State Guard.]

LANCASTER, June 4.

The funeral of ex-President Buchanan took place this afternoon. An immense concourse of people were present to witness the ceremonies, which were of a very imposing character.

Delegations from all the surrounding towns and hundreds of persons from a distance were present.

Business throughout the city was entirely suspended during the afternoon—the principal hotels, halls and engine houses having their flags at half-mast.

The scene along the route of the funeral cortege beggars description.—Conveyances of almost every class were brought into requisition, but the mass of the people were compelled to go on foot.

The procession reached from Mr. Buchanan's residence, Wheatland, to Centre Square, in Lancaster, and it is estimated that there were over 3,000 persons in the procession, exclusive of those in carriages.

The entire Fire Department of the city, City and County Officers, Judges of the Court, Members of the Bar, Medical Faculty, Trustees, Faculty and Students of Franklin and Marshall Colleges, Trustees, Faculty and Students of the Normal School of Millersville, Board of School Directors, Teachers of Public Schools, Odd Fellows, Beneficial Societies, and the Masonic Order, were in line.

A committee of Congressmen, together with members of the City Councils of Baltimore, and ex-Governor Thomas of Maryland, arrived here in the two o'clock train, to attend the body. The funeral did not take place until five o'clock. Upon reaching the Woodward Hill Cemetery the procession halted in open order, the clergy, corpse and relatives passing through. The remains were placed in such a position in the cemetery that all who remained in line had an opportunity to view them.

The Rev. Dr. J. W. Novin, President of Franklin and Marshall College, conducted the funeral services at the house, and in the course of his remarks said that no man had the right to judge Mr. Buchanan's conduct at the beginning of the war in the light of subsequent events which no human eye at that time could foresee. That in justice he should be judged by the circumstances and conditions of his own time. To do otherwise would be grossly unhistorical, unphilosophical and unchristian. In justice to Mr. Buchanan he would say, and his personal relations to him gave him opportunity of knowing, that up to the hour of his death he had never changed his mind in regard to his own policy in the beginning of the war; that he had been often heard to say that had he to pass through the same circumstances he would act differently from what he then did.

Mr. Novin then gave at great length his own views as to the sincerity of Mr. Buchanan's statements, and the sincerity of his convictions, his honesty and conscientiousness, and that he did what he believed was for the highest interest of his country.

At the close of his remarks the line of march formed, and the solemn cortege, some two miles in length, marched to Woodward Hill Cemetery, where the remains were deposited in the family lot.

A correspondent furnishes us with the following incident, illustrating one of the leading traits in the character of our future President:

During the Petersburg campaign of 1864 several privates were engaged in unloading barrels of "salt horse" from a transport at City Point, and were in charge of a lieutenant of a New York regiment, who took every occasion to show his authority. To one of his abusive remarks one of the privates made reply, whereupon the lieutenant administered severe kicks to the offender, who offered no resistance, but continued on with his work. A short thick-set man, wearing a slouched hat and a rather seedy officer's cloak, who had been standing by for some time, hereupon threw off his cloak and coat and proceeded to help to unload the transport. After the task was accomplished, the officer donned his coat and cloak and asked the lieutenant, in very civil terms, his name and regiment:

"Lieutenant——, of the —— New York Volunteers. By what authority do you dare ask such a question?"

"Report yourself immediately to your colonel under arrest, by order of General Grant, for cruelty to your men, and remember that abuse of privates by officers is not tolerated by the present commander of this army," replied the "thick set" officer, lighting a cigar and slowly walking away.

More than two-thirds of the total tonnage of railroads of this State last year, consisted of mineral productions as follows, Anthracite coal, 15,482,149; bituminous coal, 4,931,387; petroleum, 834,624; pig iron, 628,779; railroad iron, 358,959; other iron or castings, 849,227½; iron and other ores, 1,501,564½; lime and limestone, 736,654½. Total, 24,821,-317½.

There are sixteen counties in the State of Pennsylvania which are without debt, viz: Bedford, Blair, Bradford, Clarion, Clinton, Elk, Fulton, Greene, Juniata, Indiana, Luzerne, Montour, Pike, Somerset, Union, Venango, Westmoreland. Cambria county has the least debt, $2,000. Philadelphia owes $35,696,661 54, which is just $74,609 more than the State owes.

Brief Items.

A usual question—What are you going to do next Fourth of July?

A lodge of the Knights of Pythias has been organized in Altoona.

Richter's hall will be finished in about two weeks.

It is a pleasure to think that now when butter is in its prime it is cheapest in price.

West Huntingdon continues to grow—in every direction houses are going up.

A valuable bay horse was stolen from Mr. Samuel D. Taylor, of Union township, Mifflin county.

A number of hogs in this neighborhood have died from eating locusts. Farmers will do well to bear this fact in mind.

Samuel S. Smith has taken down his old residence on Hill street, and will immediately commence putting up a handsome brick.

An Odd Fellows' Lodge will soon be instituted at Orbisonia, in this county. There is good material in that neighborhood.

The stock of Wall Paper—handsome new styles—still kept up and selling cheap at Lewis' Book Store. Call and see.

Counterfeits are out on the First National Bank of Philadelphia. They are so closely imitated as to be difficult of detection.

The Cambria Iron Co. have commenced digging out the foundation for their new steel mill, adjoining their works, in Johnstown.

A little daughter of Mr. Daniel Peck of Patterson, Mifflin county, aged about two years, fell into a hogshead of rain water and was drowned.

A little three year old son of John Wherly who recently removed to a farm near Ebensburg, was lost in a clump of woods, but was found after six or seven hours' search.

The forty hours' devotional exercises have commenced in the Catholic church of this place. Right Rev. Bishop Domenec lectures this Tuesday evening.

The cost of the original Capitol at Washington city was $1,400,000. The additions, now nearly completed, will cost $12,000,000 more.

The decoration of the soldiers' graves on the 30th ult. was universally celebrated, and everywhere the ladies took a prominent part. Just like them—they are ever ready to do noble deeds with cheerful hearts.

A weekly union prayer meeting, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of this place, has been commenced. It is held in their room every Wednesday evening, at 9 o'clock.

Some of our exchanges are put to their wit's end in regard to a notice posted in Altoona, which reads thus: "All prepaid messages must be paid for before they are sent." We think the word "prepaid" is superfluous.

We have received the first number of "Father Abraham," a lively Grant and Colfax campaign paper, edited and printed by Capt. E. H. Rough and Hon. Thomas B. Cochran, at Lancaster, Pa.

The attempt to settle with doctors by returning their visits is a system which only works one way. The doctors assert that it shuts out the bread-and butter aspect of the question.

An exchange advises young men to "wrap themselves up in their virtue." We think that some of the young men in this town would be wrapped in very thin cloaks if they should try it on.

A Juniata paper says their band was in luck when it got five dollars from a married couple. Our band is luckier yet as it gets nothing less than an X, and the smiles of the bride thrown in.

An exchange advises those who want to make way with the locusts to turn loose their hogs and turkeys. Some farmers in adjoining townships inform us that the locusts "made way" with their hogs.

A Williamsburg landlord named Stoner has been held to answer at the next sessions of the Blair county court, for selling liquor to minors, to men of intemperate habits, and without license. There are no regularly licensed hotels in that place.

An axle of the front truck of the first passenger car of the Philadelphia Express west, broke some distance below Mount Union on Tuesday last. Fortunately the wheels kept the track until the train had crossed the bridge at the lower end of the town.

Our fellow-townsman, Prof. E. W. Thomas, was the happy recipient of large and luscious cake, presented him by the ladies of Philipsburg, at a concert and festival held there last week. We know the cake was luscious because we have tried it. Thanks.

There is too much reading done for amusement and not enough for instruction. If the American people devoted one-third the time they now waste in perusing flash literature to reading works of instruction, examining subjects of importance in science, the mass of our fellow-citizens would be the best informed people that ever lived.

Kratzalatt's wife discovered her old hen sitting in the back yard, and "bust up her nest." Soon after the poor wife came in much excited, and said, "My dear, I took the eggs from 'Brownie,' and she's gone and sat onto an old axe!" "Let her sit," said the bilious old fellow, "if she sets on an axe maybe she'll hatchet." Spring chickens.

A recent storm passed over Bedford county, and did some damage. The house of Mr. Charles Stuckey, near Bedford, was struck by lightning, and somewhat injured. Capt. Simon Dickerhoof, working in the building, was shocked. Mr. Joseph Gohn, of Juniata township, was out in the storm with his team, and the latter were instantly killed by lightning, and he seriously injured.

We have received a book entitled "Vulgarisms, and other errors of speech," which if placed in the hands of many who murder the King's English, would be a material aid in teaching them to avoid the popular vulgarisms and use of improper words. This little work is published by Claxton & Co., 819 and 821 Market street, Philadelphia.

Farmers, Take Notice.

The Huntingdon Mills will stop for repairs, about the 12th or 15th of June, to remain idle twenty-five or thirty days. 3t, FISHER & SONS.

A Terrible Accident on the Broad Top Railroad.

For the first time since the Broad Top Railroad has been in existence, has one of the trestles given way while cars were passing over; but it was left until Friday morning last for such an accident to occur. A coal train of twenty-five cars was passing over the trestle-work above Rough and Ready, when the supports commenced to give way, and suddenly the structure for a distance of sixty feet, together with all the cars, were precipitated seventy feet below, producing a wreck of cars that has seldom if ever been surpassed. The locomotive passed over the dangerous place, but the tender broke loose at the coupling and went down with the other cars. There were three brakemen on the cars—one of them named Alfred Houpt jumped from the train as it commenced to fall, and landed seventy feet below on soft ground, and escaped miraculously from instant death, the only injuries he received being a broken arm and some wounds in the side. Another brakeman named Samuel Reid failed to jump from the falling mass, and was carried down with the cars, and was buried under the coal, from which he was not excavated until in the evening, when it was discovered that he had a terrible gash in the head that must have killed him instantly. The flagman had barely time to jump from the rear car to the remaining trestle work, or else he too would have been injured or killed. We also learn that the fireman was on the tender of the engine as the trestle gave way, and jumped to the engine, but missed it, and falling, caught hold of a part of the trestle, and drew himself up.

This trestle work is nearly as high as the Stonerstown trestle, and though constantly kept in repair, yet it is believed some rotten supports have caused the ruin and death. The train was heavy, and it is supposed that the drawing of heavy trains over the road, caused by increasing business, has had the effect of weakening the wood work. There ought to be iron suspension bridges in order to make the road as secure as it should be, and we think increasing travel and business would remunerate the company for the expense attending their erection.

The travel on the road still continues but the carrying of coal and other freight has been discontinued until the damage is repaired, which is now being done as rapidly as possible.

A Sharp Dodge by a Prisoner.

A man named DeArmitt, who has been arrested the second or third time for stealing horses, was again placed in our jail last week, and on Friday last he told the Deputy Sheriff, Mr. Wm. Bathurst, that he would not sleep on the bed clothes in his room, as they were full of vermin. The Deputy told him it was not so, but the prisoner insisted that it was, and told him to come in and see He had just got in when the prisoner slipped out and quickly turned the key of the door on him, and run down stairs. As he was going down the stairs the Deputy called to his sister to shut the lower door, which she did, and succeeded in keeping the prisoner at bay until the Deputy was let out by the Sheriff, who had just arrived. A slight scuffle ensued between the Deputy and the prisoner, but the latter was subdued, and taken back to his cell, where he has been placed in hobbles, to keep company with his imaginery "creepers."

No. 1 Coke.

We have before us a sample of Coke, manufactured by the Enterprise Coal Company, of Clearfield county, Pa. It possesses all the qualities of first class coke, and we are informed that those who have tried the coke made by this Company, in the manufacture of Iron, &c., are so well pleased with it, that they will use no other. It is also found to be useful for other manufacturing purposes, and all that is necessary to convince manufacturers of its utility is to give it a fair trial. It is made from the celebrated Clearfield semi-bituminous coal, of Enterprise mine, and is of bright grey color. William A. Orbison, Esq., of this place, is President of the Enterprise Coal Co., which makes the article, through whom orders may be addressed. It

Heavy Storm.

On Saturday noon last we were visited by a very heavy storm, which was accompanied by hail the size of a large pea. The storm lasted for about five minutes, but during that time the hail was propelled in showers, and the wind held high carnival, breaking down trees, unroofing insecure sheds, and toppling over fences. No further damage than the above was done, but the storm raged with such fury that much worse was apprehended.

We learn that on the same day the barn of Mr. Josiah Cunningham in Barree township, was struck by lightning and badly damaged, it and the contents.

Suicide.

On Friday morning last the body of a man was found, hanging on the limb of a fallen tree, about six miles east of Bedford, close by the turn pike. J. A. Gump. Esq., summoned a jury and held an inquest over the body. From papers found on his person, we learn that the man was from Prussia. His name was Frederick Kleinman, born in 1821, and left his native country for America in November last. On Thursday he was at Bloody Run, had dinner at one of the hotels there, and afterward started on his journey westward. What caused him to commit suicide no one will ever know.—Bedford Inquirer.

YEAGERTOWN, Mifflin Co., May 20, 1868.

MESSRS EDITORS:—Thinking that it might be to the advantage of the people to call their attention to the subject of Life Insurance, I would state that Mr. Jno. T. Carlin, late of this county, had an insurance effected on his life in March 1868, for $2500 00 in the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, at the Huntingdon Agency. He died in February last, having paid two annual premiums. Mr. Kent, a director and general agent of the company, called on Mrs. Carlin on the 19th and paid the amount of Insurance in full, $2500, thus leaving her in possession of a sum that will prove a very material aid in the pathway and journey of life.

Yours truly, JNO. HOYT.

Pic-Nic at Barnet.

The usual annual Pic-nic, held by the Catholic congregation of Barnet, will be celebrated on the 4th and 6th of July, at that place. Ever since the Olympic games, nothing has approached these pic-nics in variety or exquisiteness of amusement. Good cheer will be abundant, and nothing left undone on the part of the managers to entertain their patrons. Music of the most artistic and rechoreho quality will enliven the occasion The citizens of this and adjoining counties are respectfully invited.

☞Two lectures were delivered in the Court House by Miss Augusta St. Clair. Her remarks the first evening upon "My Southern Tour" were so severe that several Democrats thought their presence was not needed and therefore left. Her lecture the next evening was upon what she saw while sojourning at Newfoundland. This lecture was instructive and pleased the audience more generally than the first. It was a source of regret, however, that our citizens did not turn out to either as they ought. When will lectures be properly appreciated?

It is supposed to have been wasted by powerful volcanic action. It is full of petrified animals, turtles of every size; serpents of great length, shells are found petrified which vie in colors with those found on the Sandwich Islands. Shafts of sandstone many feet high, and boulders, supported by a narrow pedestral, are among the wonders which greet the eye upon the entrance of this wonderful section, never explored, and but once crossed in a forced march, many years ago, by General Sully, who started with a few soldiers, carrying hardly enough water in their small vessels for man and beast. They lost a large portion of their horses. The Indians even do not penetrate it, except for a little way when hard pushed by their enemy."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE BREVITY OF LIFE.

"'Tis not for man to trifle, life is brief,
Our age is but the falling of a leaf.
We have no time to sport away the hours,
All must be earnest in a world like ours.
Not many lives, but one have we,
How sacred should that one be."

And still how many fritter away their lives unable to fill any useful purpose, because some lingering disease unfits them for it, and they neglect or refuse to use the remedies within their reach God in his wonderful arrangement of nature has provided an antidote for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, and by the aid of science, the medicinal virtues of certain herbs, roots and barks have been combined, and the result is now known all over the civilized world as Mishler's Herb Bitters. It thoroughly purifies the blood, invigorates the nervous fibres, elevates the standard of all the vital forces, and sustains a most healthful tone of the entire human organization. THE "Messenger of Health," edited at the Pennsylvania Institute of Medicine, contains an article on Dyspepsia, Chills and Fever, and Kidney Affections, in which the writer positively declares that the whole science of Medicine possesses no remedy for the cure of those diseases, that is half as efficacious as Mishler's Herb Bitters. He speaks from experience, having used them in his practice for the past two years, to the exclusion of all other remedies, and without a solitary instance of failure.

The Globe.

Correspondence.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28, 1868.

DEAR GLOBE:—I was thinking of the many friends to whom I am epistolary indebted and find that to none does the debt need cancelling more than to you; but how to do it to meet your approbation that certainly puzzles me. I'm lounging in my room, having for friend, companion and solace, a segar—and vainly through the rising smoke look for thoughts and items worth recording. Such weather certainly is not conducive to mental vigor—dull, miserable, rain certainly looks promising. Out doors I hear the jargon of thoughtless happy children; my room presents a beautiful appearance of bachelor disorder; segar boxes, old boots, hat boxes, slippers down in the heel, every chair bearing its load of old garments, my couch torn up as I've left it, and such disorder generally as causes the oft heard reproof, "how dreadful careless you are." I know it and rather rejoice in the freedom I have to keep it so. Now if I had a wife I should feel the terror oppressing me that she would come in, despite my remonstrances, "and clear up things;" as it is I'm a monarch, proud of my absolute sway. I've devoured the newspapers, wondor why they have not something interesting to record, and settle back in my chair, puffing, and wondering what I will do to-day—certainly such a life is not enviable. Leisure and a limited capital make a horrid slow team; I yawn while I hold the reins.

Among our merchants the spring rush is over; already those indefatigable youths, who frequent our public places in search of trade, are packing up and taking themselves off into the rural regions, in search of business and pleasure. How many familiar faces one meets here? Huntingdon county is certainly well represented along our business thoroughfares, and Huntingdon county is a success. My Radical friends are quite pleased with the nominations made at Chicago. Soon we are to have a monster meeting to ratify the doings and sayings of the Great Moguls, and I presume much fireworks, much hurrah, much crowd, much predictions, much wisdom will be the accompaniments. 'Tis hard for me or any one else to venture a prediction as to who will carry the banner of the "unterrified" from New York in July, but who ever does will promise a jolly and exciting race to Grant and Colfax, and in the vocabulary of the P. R., "a fair field and no favors, and may the best man win." Despite the ruin promised in the event of A. J's acquittal by the Editor of "my two papers, both daily" we dull-headed fellows have failed to perceive it, and I think "'tis in my mind's eye, Horatio," certainly as yet the public vision has not been appalled by any dire political calamity. Politicians are as reliable as our clairvoyants who for fifty cents reveal the past, present and future, and enclose a truthful picture of your future wife or husband, and are equally successful in closing the credulous optic of the public.

Places of amusement are doing a fair business, Humpty Dumpty is all the rage at the Chestnut—ye who admire fair proportions, fairly shown, should put in an appearance. Brougham at the Walnut is as usual making it pay; so is our favorite, Mrs. Drew, with ye handsome and fascinating Barton Hill. The French Opera Troupe at the Academy have drawn good houses and as a majority of our amusement-loving people don't understand French they all go, and pretend to be delighted.

Next time you come among us just pay another visit to our Park and spend an hour or two in giving it an inspection; certainly it will pay you for the trouble. If our city fathers would only make one-half the outlay on it that they have in New York on their "Central," we would have such a resort that any American could feel proud of. Had I the knack of describing the natural beauties I see and feel there, I would be eagerly sought after by Bonner to write the opening chapter of his sensational stories with a first scene laid among flowery meadows, lovely lawn, green and emerald, magnificent sheets of water with tiny boats graceful as swans upon its bosom, feathered songsters making the air joyous, crystal fountains, bubbling springs enticing us to lave our hands and cool our parched lips with its cool health-inspiring waters, dove eyed maidens, pensive youths with chestnut locks falling in graceful clusters o'er their magnificently shaped necks and the faint shading of silken down on their lip—promising work for some future dexterous razor, but 'taint my line, much as I admire the "dove eyed;" in fact I've a strong leaning that way that the "dove eyed" will please not encourage. Now, Globe, please say of the writer he was once sane, and believe me, yours to command,

OF THE N. S's.

GOOD BY.—It is a hard word to speak. Some may laugh that it should be, but let them. Icy hearts are never kind. It is a word that has choked many an utterance, and started many a tear. The hand is clasped, the word spoken, we part, and out upon the ocean of time we go to meet again—where, God only knows. It may be soon; it may be never. Take care that your "good by" be not a cold one, it may be the last that you can give. Ere you may meet your friend again death's cold hand may have closed his eyes and chained his lips forever. Ah! he may have died thinking you loved him not.

Again, it may be a long separation. Friends crowd around and give you their hand. How you detect in each "good by" the love that lingers there; and how you bear away with you the memory of these parting words many, many days.

We must often separate with those we love when it is hard to part. Tear not yourself away with a careless boldness that defies all love, but make your last words linger—give the heart its full utterance—and if tears fall, what of it? Tears are not unmanly.

☞Celedon, the latest fashion in colors, is described as a mixture of pea-green and orange—something like the tint of a kitten's eye in a coal cellar.

☞Connubling is a new word for wedding, which has appeared in the Cincinnati Commercial.

TO THE AFFLICTED!

AN ARTICLE OF REAL MERIT!

FOSTER'S

ORIENTAL BITTERS,

A Remedy that has been tried and stood the test, not only in an occasional case, but in every community where used it has been pronounced the safest and most reliable remedy known for

DYSPEPSIA,
LOSS OF APPETITE,
WEAKNESS,
GENERAL DEBILITY,
PAIN OR CRAMP IN THE STOMACH OR BOWELS,
CHOLERA MORBUS,
HEADACHE,
NEURALGIA,
INTERMITTENT, OR CHILLS AND FEVER,
LIVER TONIC,
AND FOR ALL FEMALE DISEASES.

As an agreeable and safe remedy and an Invigorating Beverage it has no equal.

This valuable Bitters is composed of the essential properties of roots—the medicinal qualities of which have been carefully extracted. It is agreeable to the taste and does not leave that unpleasant taste in the mouth for hours after, that most medicines do.

As a Blood Purifier and Liver Tonic it has no equal.—It contains no calomel or other injurious drug, but is purely vegetable.

For Dyspepsia it cannot be excelled. It contains nothing injurious to the stomach, is mild and prompt in its action and effects a permanent cure by removing the cause of the complaint.

For Intermittent Fever or Chills and Fever this Bitters is a specific far boster and surer than quinine.

No family should be without it as the cost is trifling compared with the suffering that may be avoided by having it at hand in case of sudden attack.

Weakly Persons use the Oriental Bitters.

Invalids use the Oriental Bitters.

Dyspeptics use the Oriental Bitters.

Females use the Oriental Bitters.

TRY IT AND JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Prepared only by

BUCHANAN & SMITH,
HUNTINGDON, PA.,

To whom all orders should be addressed.

Price $1.00 per bottle.

For sale by all druggists and dealers generally. mh26

DR. W. H. WITMOR

Has been in successful practice for a number of years, with the experience of the different Hospitals in Europe and America. Army and Hospital Surgeon during the late American War, continues to attend to all professional cases at his office,

No. 928 Filbert Street, Philadelphia.

No Patent Medicines are used or recommended: the remedies administered are those which will not break down the constitution, but renovate the system from all injuries it has sustained from mineral medicines, and leave the system in a healthy and perfectly cured condition.

DYSPEPSIA,

that distressing disease and fell destroyer of health and happiness, undermining the constitution and yearly carrying thousands to untimely graves, can most emphatically be cured.

MELANCHOLY ABERRATION, that state of alienation and weakness of the mind which renders persons incapable of enjoying the pleasures or performing the duties of life.

RHEUMATISM,

in any form or condition, chronic or acute, warranted curable.

EPILEPSY,

or falling sickness, all chronic or stubborn cases of radically removed; Salt Rheum and every description of ulcerations; Piles and Scrofulous Diseases which have baffled all previous medical skill, can be cured by my treatment; and I do say all diseases [ye Consumption] can be cured by wearing my Medicated Jacket, which is a protection to the lungs against all changes of weather in all climates. Having investigated for years the cause and character of intermittents [fever and ague] in all parts of the United States, will cure permanently all chronic or acute cases of ague and nervous diseases in a few days.

Cancer Cured without the use of Knife, or Drawing Blood.

Tape Worm, that dread to the human family for years, can be removed with two or three doses of my newly discovered remedy, warranted in all cases. Consultation in the English and German languages. Will make visits any distance desired. May be addressed by letter [confidentially] and medicine sent with proper directions to any part of the country.
